'New Fine Art Papers' Print Promotion: Oil Pigment Archival Prints A6 to A2

We recently installed the latest Epson A2 fine art 10 colour printers which use archival oil pigments. These printers have extra light grey, grey and matte black pigments to complement the photo gloss black for the printing of richly toned B&W images. They also use extra colours to complement the usual CMYK set to ensure highly saturated colours on any matte or lustre substrates - perfect for watercolour, pastel and acrylic art reproductions! The printers also use special overprinting techniques ink to avoid any non gloss pigments 'dulling down' the sheen of lustre and high gloss surfaces of the photo exhibition papers.

ALL of our fine art and photo exhibition print jobs are handled with traditional 'old school' custom print lab procedures...

I personally evaluate your images for any flaws, poor tonality and incorrect colour profiling issues etcetera and then send you feedback before printing. I can then optimise the images and add custom borders for your presentation, titling, hand signing, edition numbering and framing needs.

All Images are soft proofed and test strips are printed before final printing ensure the best colour and tonal rendition. Here are the promotional archival print prices with discounts on multiple prints of the same image and layout...
